FOREWORD

We, the members of the El Rodeo Staff, have endeavored to record in permanent form the student life, spirit, and activities of Dumas High School for the year 1943 and 44. It has been our sincere desire to please you, and we hope that this, the second publication of the El Rodeo, will serve as a permanent, enduring, and memorial record of this school year.

The Editor
Sue Elliott

DEDICATION

In order that we may show our appreciation to the former students of Dumas High School who are now in the service of their country, fighting for the freedom we have long enjoyed, we, the staff, respectfully and lovingly dedicate this second publication of the El Rodeo.

'Tis the human touch in this world that counts
The touch of your hand and mine
Which means far more to the fainting heart
Than shelter or bread or wine.
For shelter is gone when the night is o'er
And bread lasts only a day.
But the touch of the hand and the sound of the voice
Sing on in the soul alway.

Sincerely yours,

Paul S. Rogers

To the Students of Dumas High School

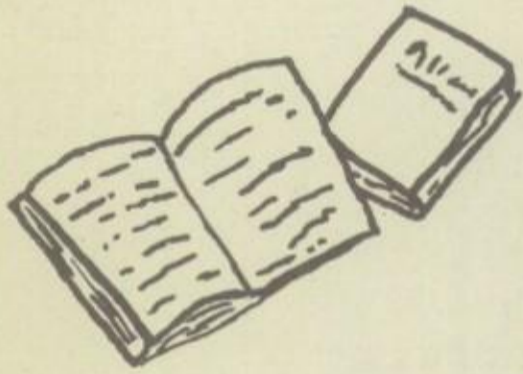

Despite the War I feel that Dumas High School has enjoyed a profitable year. Many of our new students have seen the Panhandle at its worse--remember the Snow storms: and the old timers feel that we shouldn't have any more dust storms-ever. We have had as many socials-Dances, Class parties and picnics, plays and victory concerts as we could have under the tire and gas shortage. So, won't it be fun when Dad will let us have the family automobile again. If not the car-the family plane, what!

Sincerely,

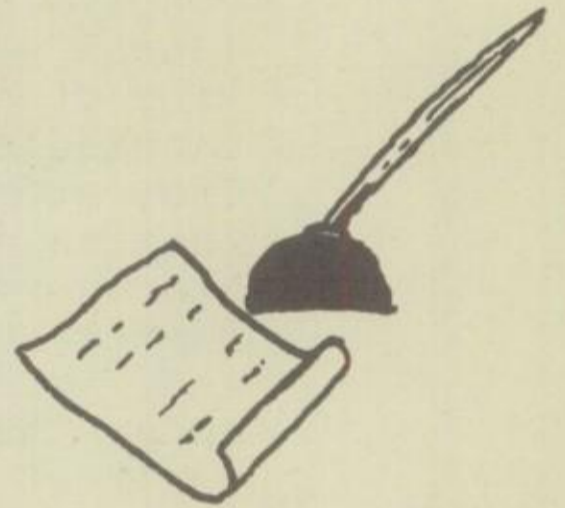

Lawrence Brotherton

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Among the Seniors of '44, eight started school together here 11 years ago. Of the eight, just two are boys, Harold Beauchamp and J. D. Pool. The six girls are: Ethel Crabtree, Lenore Hise, Mary Margaret McClary, Margueritte Morton, Alyne Taylor, and Mary Lee Curnutt.

From the first to the fourth no one started that is still here.

In the fourth grade J. T. Goodnight, Thelma Opdyke, and Marjorie Williams enrolled. The next year Kenneth Mowery, Drucilla Purgason, Andy Alexander, and Dawson Donnell came.

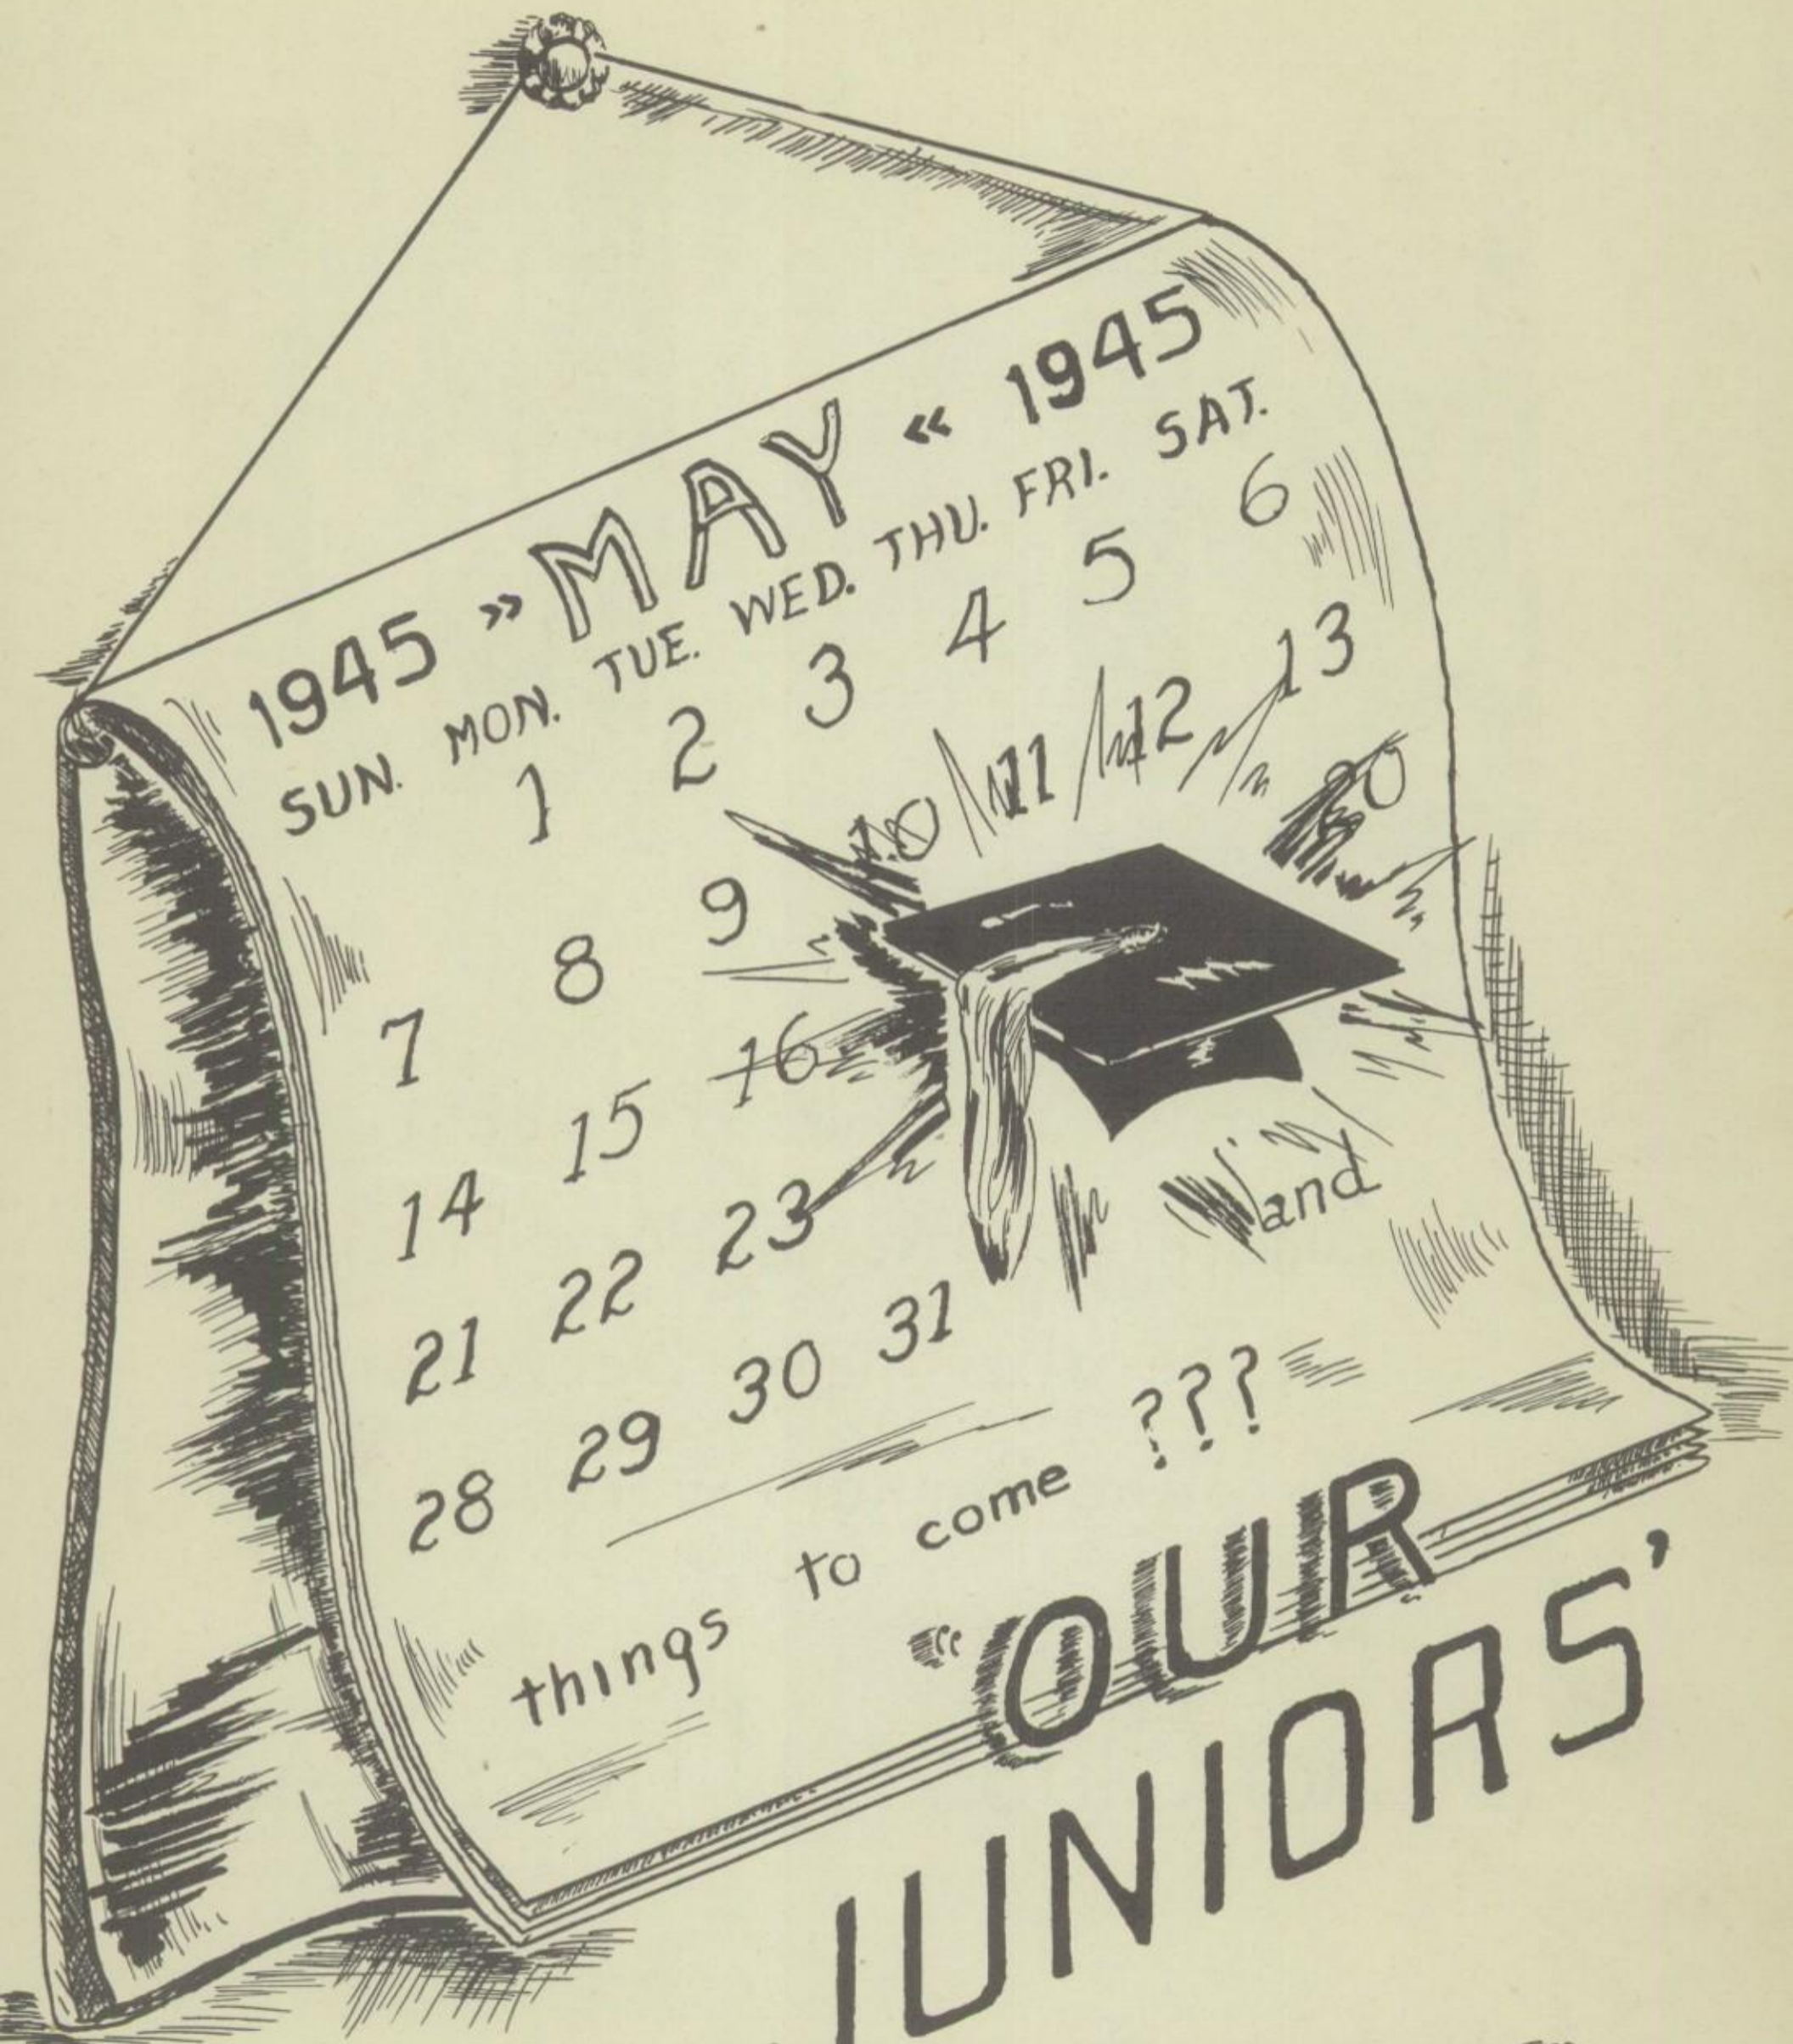

In the sixth grade just two enrolled: Ella May Milam and Wanda Sanders. The seventh and last year of this group in grade school together, Duand Cook and Paul Thompson enrolled.

Of the first year in High School the following joined: Louese Hardaway, Virginia Messenger, Hollis Burns, Bill Cassel, and Junior Steger. Mary Lee Curnutt rejoined after leaving in the third grade. Dale DuLaney was the only one to join us during the sophomore year.

Due to the opening of the Cactus Plant several people joined during the junior year. Among those the following are still here: Wanda Cannon, Genevieve Morton, Colene West, Earlene West, Betty Wampler, Nathat Thacker, and Mary Louise Dulaney. Alyne Taylor rejoined after leaving in the second year.

This year, our Senior year, only six people joined. They are Joy McCaleb, O'Neal Wilson, Lahoma Rodgers, and Billy Greenfield. H. C. Adair and Delbert Lewis joined at the Semester.

We have sincerely enjoyed all eleven years of our work at Dumas and hope that each class following us enjoy their work as much as we have.

"When the Orange and Black
Are Fighting" #

When the Orange and Black are fighting,
And they're giving their all for you,
Even though that old team's losing,
Are you going to back them through?

From the students, a voice of thunder,
Comes the answer that gives a thrill,
"For Old Dumas and Dumas Demons,
For you Dear Old High School, we will."
